The anti-anarchist bill has passed the chamber of Deputies by an almost unanimous vote. The bill is said to be the result of the extreme license practice by the Paris press lately and it is hinted will be so construed as to practically abridge the freedom of the city press in certain quarters.

Now think of the Bulletin objecting to the use of the term "Excellency" by the Iowa State Legislature, after all its years of journalistic and personal toadyism to every sort and condition of "smoked-glass" royalty, with patent extension titles, accompanied by a mingled aroma of coconut oil, gin and dried fish. But on second thought it is probably these last-mentioned lurings which the Bulletin misses under the Republic and moans accordingly and exceedingly.

J. THRO. HATSOPULOS, M. D., is in error when he states the Star undertook to answer for the Board of Health regarding its action on his application for a license to practice medicine. This paper, in the ordinary course of journalistic events, reported a meeting of the Board of Health held last Wednesday, but further than expressing the opinion the Board had drawn the line at Dr. Hatsopolus as a medicine man nothing was said. This opinion was likely well grounded, as Mr. Hatsopolus will probably be able to see, if he holds both eyes very wide open and reads aloud in the secrecy of his chamber that portion of the report of the meeting of the Board of Health relating to himself.

TIME TO QUIT.

As the time for the sailing of the Australia nears the usual batch of street rumors, mostly from the Royalist side, has found circulation. While the stories afloat this morning are not of an alarming character, they are evidently intended as a cover to the absurd reports of some threatening danger attempted to be imposed upon the public about the time the U. S. F. S. Philadelphia was announced to leave port. Guided in a large measure by their own fears, the persons who saw fit to petition for the retention of the Champion in port sought to create the impression the delay of the Philadelphia to leave was by request of the Government and American residents. This was promptly denied in the Star.

It may not be improper to state now that the delay in the departure of the Philadelphia was simply to await the arrival of the mail by the Australia. It is understood this was at the request of Minister Willis and not from any fear of impending or even alleged threatening trouble. If there was any intimation of trouble at any time it came, as stated in these columns, from the other side and not from the Government, its supporters, resident Americans or their representatives.

The fact that Admiral Walker and the United States Minister have left the Republic of Hawaii under the protection of its own stability shows the confidence placed in the Government to maintain quiet and order, and is a direct compliment to the people of Hawaii. The action of British residents and officials in detaining a war vessel here, which was reported to be under sailing orders, is certainly in sharp contrast with the confidence of the United States.

It may be well at this time to assure the public the various rumors put in circulation in regard to contingencies which may happen are utterly groundless in fact. There is not even a scare movement on foot, and since the departure of "Lieutenant" Francis L. G. Harden, there has not been a "scare" man with sufficient grit and recklessness in the Royalist ranks to raise a "patriotic" wind favorable to restoration. The fact is the hope of the ex-queen became hopeless when her supporters refused to put up the necessary $1500 for a revolution on the plans and specifications submitted by the brave Royalist "Lieutenant" mentioned, who is at present engaged in working the Chinese Legation at San Francisco for a billet.

It is just possible the present force of protection which has been gratuitously imposed upon Honolulu will cause a very widespread smile the world over when the facts become fully known. In the meantime the good work of the Republic of Hawaii will go steadily forward; the policy of the Senate of the United States will be carried out to the letter, without regard to consequences, and the sooner the Royalists and their friends and sympathizers recognize the fact that the inevitable has arrived the better it will be for them and the country at large.

ACT 4.

An Act to Provide for a Labor Commission.

Be it enacted by the Executive and Advisory Councils of the Republic of Hawaii:

Section 1. The President of the Republic is hereby directed to appoint a Commission of five persons, who shall be known as the "Labor Commission," one of whom shall act as chairman thereof and who shall have the power to administer oaths.

Section 2. Such persons may be officers of the Government, members of the Executive or Advisory Councils, or otherwise; but there shall be included in such Commission at least one person who is financially interested in the sugar industry, and one who represents the mechanical trades in the Republic.

Vacancies caused by resignation, refusal to serve, or other cause, shall be filled by appointment of the President.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of such Commission to make full and careful inquiry and investigation covering a period from at least one year prior to the taking effect of the McKinley Tariff Act to the first day of July, 1894, concerning:

1. The number and nationality and residence of all agricultural laborers now employed in the Republic, showing the number engaged in each particular branch of agriculture.

2. The rate of wages paid to the different nationalities of such laborers in the different portions of the Republic.

3. The number, nationality and residence of all mechanics now employed in the Republic.

4. The rate of wages paid to the different nationalities of such mechanics in the different portions of the Republic.

5. The prices received by Hawaiian sugar planters for raw sugar.

6. The cost of producing sugar, showing, so far as practicable, the cost of each stage and process, and showing more particularly the proportionate cost of unskilled labor.

7. Whether or not an increased number of agricultural and other unskilled laborers will be needed in the near future, and if so, in connection with what industries and how many laborers will probably be required.

8. The trials which have been given to co-operative production, or profit-sharing, in the production of sugar, rice or other agricultural products, in this country, giving, so far as practicable, the details of the several agreements and methods adopted, and the results thereof.

9. Whether or not a system of co-operative production or profit-sharing is feasible in connection with the main agricultural industries of the country; and, if so, upon what lines.

10. Whether or not such a system of production has ever been adopted in any other country situated similarly to Hawaii, and in the production of similar products to those produced here; and, if so, what the results were.

11. Whether or not there is anything in the climatic or other conditions in this country which may render it physically impossible for Europeans and Americans to successfully engage in field labor in this country.

12. If Europeans and Americans are found capable of personal field labor, whether or not it is feasible to secure the immigration of a sufficient number of Europeans or Americans to supply the present and probable requirements for unskilled labor. If so, upon what terms, and by what means, and from what countries.

13. What the effect of Chinese immigration has been in this country.

14. What the effect of restriction of such immigration has been.

15. Whether or not it is necessary or advisable to allow the further immigration of Chinese. If so, upon what conditions.

16. What the effect of Japanese immigration has been in this country.

17. Whether or not it is necessary or advisable to allow the further immigration of Japanese. If so, upon what conditions.

18. What the condition of field labor and of mechanics is here, and during the last few years has been in this country, as compared with other countries.

19. What rate of wages is paid in other countries to skilled and mechanical labor, in the production of products similar to those raised here.

20. Any other matters of a kindred character which will throw light upon the subject, and tend to solve the problems incidental to the labor question in this country.

21. In what manner and to what extent men introduced as contract laborers have competed with the mechanical or business interests of the country.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of all Government officers, officers of corporations and other persons to furnish to such Commission, upon its request, all information within their knowledge, bearing upon the subject-matter of this Act, and power is hereby conferred upon such Commission, or a majority of its members, to issue subpoenas to witnesses to appear and testify before such Commission, and to produce papers before it in the same manner as subpoenas are issued by the Supreme Court. Disobedience or refusal to answer questions asked pursuant to any subpoena issued by such Commission may be punished by a certification to him, by the Commission, or a majority of its members, on a certification to him, by the Commission, or a majority of its members, of the fact of such disobedience; the punishment to be the same as that for disobedience of a subpoena of the Supreme Court.

Section 5. The said Commission shall reduce to writing the gist of the evidence taken by it, and shall, from time to time, as soon as reasonably may be, report the results of their investigation, together with such recommendations as they may think proper, to the Executive and Advisory Councils, or the Legislature, if the same is in session, or to the Executive Council if the Legislature has adjourned.

Section 6. The members of the said Commission shall receive such compensation as shall be determined by the Legislature; and they are hereby authorized to employ a stenographer and typewriter, and to pay the necessary incidental expenses involved in collecting the information herein provided for, and to pay the traveling expenses of the members and of all witnesses necessarily incurred in procuring such information; provided, however, that this shall not authorize any member of the Commission to travel beyond the limits of the Republic in procuring such information.

Section 7. There is hereby appropriated out of the Treasury the sum of five Thousand Dollars for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such Commission.

Section 8. This Act shall take effect from the date of its approval.

Approved this 10th day of August, A. D., 1894.
